

Presentation topic (i): ‘Key risks for 2022 – Risk Landscape we should consider’

Presentation outline

The Global Risks Report reveals the top risks requiring urgent global action. Past years have seen a lack of mobilization on risk areas perceived to be long-term or abstract, but the pandemic has shown just how much the cost of inaction far outweighs the cost of action.

In 2020, the seemingly obscure risk of a pandemic became a reality.

In 2021, cyber risks reached new milestones with the highest average cost of a data breach in almost two decades. At the same time, floods, fires and weather-related disasters dominated headlines.

Climate continued to shift from the abstract to an urgent risk category.

During the session we will address these and other emerging risks.
